Utah Senate Democrats Pleased with LDS Church Announcement

Salt Lake City – The 5 Utah Senate Democrats are pleased with the LDS Church announcement today in support of Anti-Discrimination legislation for the LGBT Community.

“This is a very positive move for all citizens of the state of Utah,” states Senate Minority Leader, Gene Davis.

"I am proud that the LDS Church has seen fit to lead the way in non-discrimination," exclaims Senator Jim Dabakis, Minority Caucus Manager. "As a Church, Mormons have a long history of being the victims of discrimination and persecution. They understand, more than most, the value and strength of creating a civil society that judges people by the content of their character and their ability to do a job. The support of the LDS Church is invaluable to passage of a statewide Non-Discrimination bill."
